LAST GAME

Seattle 78, Dallas 83 - KeyArena, Seattle, Wash. (6/30/16)

Despite a game-high 24 points from guard Jewell Loyd, the Seattle Storm lost 83-78 to the Dallas Wings on Thursday at KeyArena in its final contest of a four-game homestand. Seattle drops to 6-10 on the season, while the Wings improve to 8-9 with their second victory of the year over the Storm. Thursday's game was tightly contested from start to finish, and neither team led by more than three points in the second half until the final seconds. A pair of free throws by Crystal Langhorne gave Seattle a two-point lead with 1:16 remaining, but Dallas rookie Aerial Powers responded by nailing a three-pointer to put the Wings back in front. The Storm was unable to score on its remaining possessions, and the Wings knocked down their free throws to secure the victory. Powers led the Wings with 19 points on 7-of-10 shooting off the bench, one point shy of her season high. Loyd, who ranks ninth in the league with 17.1 points per game, recorded her seventh 20-point game of the season. The reigning Rookie of the Year shot an efficient 8-of-16 from the field and 7-for-7 at the free throw line. After tying the league's single-game high with 38 points in the last game, Storm forward Breanna Stewart had 17 points, eight rebounds and six assists Thursday night. Langhorne and Alysha Clark scored 10 points apiece. In a battle of the two teams who attempt the most three-pointers, Dallas shot 11-of-22 from beyond the arc compared to 7-of-20 for the Storm. Clark hit a pair of three-pointers in the first quarter, helping the Storm go on a 13-1 run after facing an early deficit. Loyd led all scorers with nine points in the opening frame, helping Seattle to a 23-21 edge. The Wings had an 8-0 spurt to start the second quarter led by Powers, and they would hold onto the lead for most of the period. Stewart scored a pair of baskets to put Seattle in front 46-44 at halftime, as she and Loyd both finished the half with 11 points. Loyd continued to impose her will to start the second half, scoring eight points in the first five minutes and pouring in 13 total points in the third quarter. It was a tightly contested period, as the score was tied on five different occasions, and the Storm led 65-64 heading into the fourth. In the second half, both Noelle Quinn and Krystal Thomas scored off the bench for the Storm. Quinn and Thomas are back with the Storm after being acquired over the weekend.

TEAM NOTES

JEWELL'S A GEM

When the Seattle Storm and Phoenix Mercury met for the first time this year on May 20, Jewell Loyd scored a career-high 30 points, including the game-winning jumper that gave Seattle an 81-80 victory. On June 3 at KeyArena, Loyd once again posted a new career high against Phoenix, notching 32 points to guide the Storm to a 95-81 win. Loyd, who reached the 500-point milestone on June 3, became the third player in franchise history to score 30 on multiple occasions. It was the most points scored by a Storm player since Lauren Jackson posted 33 in 2010 against Phoenix. Loyd, the reigning WNBA Rookie of the Year finished 12-of-18 from the field and 4-for-7 from three-point range, scoring 19 in the first half alone. It was her fourth 20-point game of the year, and the Notre Dame product also set career highs with nine rebounds and five offensive boards.

STEWART CLAIMS ROOKIE OF THE MONTH

Storm rookie forward Breanna Stewart was named the WNBA Rookie of the Month presented by Samsung for games played in May. In May, Stewart led all rookies in points (17.4 ppg), rebounds (8.8 rpg) and blocks (2.0 bpg) and was second in assists (2.4 apg) in five games. She tied for third among all WNBA players in rebounds and blocks and ranked 10th in points while equaling the league high in minutes (36.2 mpg). Stewart scored in double digits every night and recorded a pair of double-doubles as Seattle won two of its five games in May.

WNBA 20@20 UNVEILED

In celebration of the WNBA's landmark 20th season, the league unveiled the 20 greatest and most influential players in its history with its announcement of the WNBA Top 20@20 presented by Verizon. Storm point guard Sue Bird, now in her 15th WNBA season, was honored as one of the 20 players. The list includes nine current players: Bird, Swin Cash, Seimone Augustus, Tamika Catchings, Maya Moore, Candace Parker, Cappie Pondexter, Diana Taurasi and Lindsay Whalen. Storm legend Lauren Jackson is one of 11 former players. The players were selected based on factors like on-court performance and ability, leadership and sportsmanship, as well as contributions to team success.

LIGHTING IT UP

The highest-scoring trio in the WNBA resides in Seattle and consists of the three No. 1 picks on the Storm's roster: Breanna Stewart, Jewell Loyd and Sue Bird. Stewart and Loyd are both in the league's top 10 with 18.8 and 17.1 points per game, respectively, while Bird is averaging her most points per game since 2011 (13.5). The trio combines to average 49.4 of the Storm's 81.3 points per contest, slightly edging the Los Angeles Sparks' trio of Nneka Ogwumike, Candace Parker and Kristi Toliver (49.2). It is the Storm's highest-scoring trio since 2007, when Lauren Jackson won MVP after averaging 23.8 points per game and Bird wasn't even among the team's top three scorers (Betty Lennox, Iziane Castro Marques).

SHE'S A THIEF

Now in her 15th season in the WNBA, Sue Bird is ninth in career steals with 562. She averages 1.3 steals per game for her career, which included one season missed due to injury. In eight of the 13 years she played, Bird recorded 1.4 or more steals per contest. Her 562 career steals rank fifth among active players, and there's a good chance she moves up two spots on the all-time list this year.

MIGHT WANT TO GUARD HER

Crystal Langhorne sits in fourth all-time on the WNBA's FG% charts. A career 56.3% shooter, Langhorne has led the Storm in scoring since joining the team and in consecutive seasons (2014, 2015).

ROOKIE RECORDS RUPTURED

Breanna Stewart scored 38 points, tied for the most by a WNBA player this season, and the Storm defeated Atlanta 84-81 on Tuesday, June 28 at KeyArena. It was the first career 30-point game for Stewart, who went 12-of-16 from the field en route to the highest-scoring performance by a rookie in franchise history. She surpassed her college career high in points, as the most Stewart scored during her four years at UConn was 37. It ranks as the third-highest scoring output by a rookie in league history and the second-highest point total in franchise history, behind only Lauren Jackson's 47 in an overtime game in 2007.

CRYSTAL CLEAR

Crystal Langhorne shot 8-for-8 from the field on her way to a season-high 18 points in the May 28 win over the Sun, setting a franchise record for field goals without a miss. Langhorne had a game-high eight rebounds and the second-most points in the game, and her 18 points featured her seventh career three-pointer and first since 2014. Langhorne's career average of 56.3 percent shooting ranks fourth in WNBA history, and she's been in the league's top five in that category every year since joining Seattle.

MULTI-30+ GAMES IN A SINGLE SEASON

In the 2016 season, Jewell Loyd has put up 30+ points in a single game twice. Three-time MVP Lauren Jackson is the only other player in a Storm jersey to accomplish this feat, which she has done in 6 seasons (2003, 2004, 2007, 2008, 2009, 2010). Jackson's single-season best was in 2007, when she passed the mark 9 times, including her 47-point outburst on July 24, 2007 at Washington in an overtime contest, a then-WNBA single-game scoring record. Jackson would go on to win WNBA MVP honors that season.

ONE OF THE ALL-TIME BEST DISHIN' THE ROCK

Sue Bird is just 294 assists shy of tying Ticha Penicheiro (2,599) on the WNBA all-time assist rankings. She boasts a 5.4 assist per game career average, sitting in second place on the all-time list. The 2015 season saw Bird fall just .4 assists per game short of leading the league in the category (Courtney Vandersloot, 5.8 apg, 2015).

TEAM NOTES

RETIRING #15

On Friday, July 15, when Seattle takes on the Washington Mystics, the Storm will officially retire the No. 15 of former star center Lauren Jackson. After announcing her retirement in March, Jackson will make the trip from Australia to Seattle that week and be honored in a ceremony at the game. Jackson, a three-time WNBA MVP, is the Storm's all-time leading scorer and rebounder. She played all of her 12 WNBA seasons in Seattle, starting 358 total games and guiding the Storm to championships in 2004 and 2010. Jackson ranks seventh all-time in scoring (6,007 points), ninth in rebounds (2,447) and third in blocks (586). Her 2007 campaign was the most decorated season by an individual in league history: MVP, scoring champion, rebounding champion and Defensive Player of the Year. She is one of two players in WNBA history to lead the league in both scoring and rebounding in the same season. When the Storm defeated Atlanta to win the 2010 title, Jackson was named Finals MVP. A perennial All-Star, Jackson finished with career averages of 18.9 points, 7.7 rebounds, 1.1 steals and 1.8 blocks per game. She averaged more than 20 points per game in five different seasons, including three years in which Jackson led the WNBA in scoring (2003, '04, '07). On the international stage, Jackson guided the Australian National Team to medals at four consecutive Olympic Games.

HISTORY REPEATS ITSELF

Seattle owned the No. 1 pick in the WNBA Draft for the second straight year, the second time a WNBA team has selected first back-to-back years. After doing so in 2001 and 2002, the Storm won its first WNBA title within three seasons. Including Lauren Jackson and Sue Bird, seven of the players taken No. 1 overall in the WNBA Draft between 2001 and 2013 have won at least one title. In the NBA, having back-to-back top picks has proven to deliver even quicker success: All three times NBA franchises have chosen first overall in consecutive years since 1965, they made the NBA finals within two seasons (Orlando Magic 1992-93, Houston Rockets 1983-84, Cleveland Cavaliers 2013-14).

TRIPLE-DOUBLE WATCH...

Breanna Stewart nearly became the youngest and fastest player in WNBA history to record a triple-double with her 14-point, 10-rebound, 9-assist effort on 6/3/16 vs. Phoenix. The evening did mark her third double-double of her short career, just seven games in. Should she accomplish the feat, she will join elite company. There have been just six triple-doubles in WNBA history.

BIRD: WISEST OWL OF THEM ALL

By the numbers, 35-year-old point guard Sue Bird has been even more dominant this year than her previous seasons. Her 13.5 points per game are the two-time champion's most since 2011, while her 5.5 assists per contest are the most since the 2010 title-winning season. Her 85.7 percent shooting from the free throw line is a personal best since 2011, while her 47.8 percent overall shooting and 43.2 percent from the three-point line are among the highest of her entire career.

PICKING UP THE PACE

In 2015, Crystal Langhorne led the Storm in scoring with 11.1 points per game as the team finished 10-24. Sixteen games into this season, Seattle has three players averaging better than 13 points per contest (Breanna Stewart – 18.8; Jewell Loyd – 17.1; and Sue Bird – 13.5). As a team, the Storm has also increased its average scoring output from 70.4 points per game in 2014 to 81.3 this year and its field goal percentage from 43.4 to 46.3 percent. Five different players are averaging better than nine points for the first time since 2013.

GUARD THE JEWELL OR JEWELL THE GUARD?

On June 19 against Minnesota, Storm guard Jewell Loyd matched her career high of six assists in the first half, finishing with a new personal best of seven dimes. Not a point guard for the majority of her basketball career, Loyd has shown the ability to be a playmaker in her second WNBA season. She's dished out five or more assists on five occasions, increasing her average from 1.9 assists per game last year to 2.9 this season. Loyd has also increased her scoring from 10.7 points per game to 17.1, and her three-point shooting percentage from 20.8 to 29.0.

STEWART'S STORM

During a historic, unprecedented career at Connecticut, Breanna Stewart won four consecutive national championships and guided the Huskies to a pair of perfect seasons (2013-14 and 2015-16). She was named Most Outstanding Player of the Final Four in all four of her team's title runs and won AP Player of the Year three straight seasons. A four-year starter at Connecticut, Stewart becomes the fifth Husky to be selected with the top pick in the WNBA draft. She finished her college career with a 151-5 record after leading the Huskies in scoring for the past three seasons. During her senior year, Stewart averaged 19.4 points, 8.7 rebounds, 4.0 assists and 3.4 blocks per game while shooting 57.9 percent from the field and 42.6 percent from the 3-point line. Stewart is the only player in Division I women's basketball history to record 300 blocks and 300 assists in her career. At the 2013 Final Four, she became the first freshman in 26 years to earn the tournament's Most Outstanding Player award. Stewart has also played for the United States National Team, helping the USA win gold at the 2014 FIBA World Championship.

CLARK TAKES CHARGE

Alysha Clark scored 23 points on 7-of-7 shooting against New York on June 5, marking a new career high for the veteran forward after she had scored 20 against Minnesota earlier this season. Clark, who returned to the starting lineup after coming off the bench in the previous game due to a knee bruise, was 5-for-5 in the first half to lead Seattle with 14 points. In her fifth year with Seattle, Clark is averaging 9.1 points per game on 47.8 percent shooting. She has recorded the first two 20-point outings of her career, and in a five-game stretch, she put up 13.8 points per night on 61.8 percent shooting.

BOSS OF THE BOARDS

On June 5 against New York, Storm rookie Breanna Stewart pulled down a career-high 17 rebounds, toppling the previous franchise rookie record ([13, Lauren Jackson, 7/27/01, vs. Phoenix] and Stewart [13, 2 times]) and setting a league-wide single-game high that has since been surpassed by San Antonio's Dearica Hamby (18). Sixteen games into her rookie season, Stewart is second in the league with 9.3 rebounds per game, and she has recorded a double-double in five of her appearances.

#CLUTCH

On June 12 against Indiana, Jewell Loyd scored 16 points in the second half, including the go-ahead free throws with 2.4 seconds remaining, to guide the Storm to a 90-88 win. It marked the second time this season that Loyd has scored the game-winning points in the final seconds. Loyd was fouled while attempting a shot from the right baseline on the fast break, and she drained both free throws to put Seattle ahead. She also hit a midrange jumper on the previous possession when the Storm was down one. On May 21, Loyd hit the game-winning shot with 2.9 seconds remaining to give Seattle an 81-80 win over Phoenix. Before her game-winner in the final seconds, Loyd also hit a crucial jumper with 41.9 seconds left to bring the Storm within one at 80-79. She scored the final 10 points for Seattle, finishing the fourth quarter with 12 on 6-of-7 field goals.

#ROADTORIO

On Wednesday, April 27, the USA Women's Basketball Team 12-athlete roster for the 2016 Olympics was named. Sue Bird was named to her fourth Olympic team, going for her fourth Gold medal. Storm rookie Breanna Stewart was also named to the team. This is the first time in Storm history that the active roster had two members on an Olympic roster. Stewart and Bird won a gold medal together at the 2014 FIBA World Championships.

OFFENSIVE TAKEOVER

On Friday, June 24 against the Connecticut Sun, Seattle exploded for its best offensive outing of the season. In the victory, the Storm set season highs in points (98), field goals (35), field goal percentage (61.4) margin of victory (17) and points in a half (56). Led by the 29 points of Breanna Stewart, Seattle never trailed in the game and held its largest lead of the season (25) in the third quarter. Since the opening minutes of the first quarter, the Storm held a double-digit lead the entire game. It marked the 10th game out of the first 14 in which four Storm players reached double figures.

MONEY FROM THE STRIPE

At just 22 years old, Storm guard Jewell Loyd is among the best free-throw shooters in the WNBA. After going 7-for-7 at the charity stripe against Dallas last Thursday, Loyd is shooting 89.3 percent (67-of-75) this year, the best percentage out of 12 players who have attempted 75 or more free throws. This comes after a rookie season in which Loyd shot 90.4 percent from the free throw line, second best in the league among those with 100 attempts. Against the Mystics last August, she set a franchise record and WNBA rookie record for most free throws made without a miss (14).

AMONG LEAGUE LEADERS

Sixteen games into the season, Seattle has several players among the WNBA leaders in the main offensive categories. Rookie forward Breanna Stewart is second in the league with 9.3 rebounds per game and third with 2.0 blocks per game. Sue Bird leads the league with 5.5 assists per game, while Stewart ranks fifth with 18.8 points per game and Jewell Loyd ranks eighth with 17.1. Stewart, Loyd and Bird are all in the top six in minutes with averages of more than 32 per game. Here is where Stewart ranks among rookies: first in points (18.8), first in rebounds (9.3), second in assists (3.3), third in steals (1.3) and first in blocks (2.0). She was named WNBA Rookie of the Month for May.

WELCOME BACK TO SEATTLE

During the weekend of June 25-26, the Storm completed a pair of transactions that saw guard Noelle Quinn and center Krystal Thomas return to the team's roster. In a trade for Quinn, Seattle sent the rights to Angel Robinson to Phoenix. Robinson appeared in 25 games in 2014, her only season in Seattle. Quinn played for the Storm during the 2013 and 2014 seasons before signing with Phoenix prior to the 2015 campaign. Thomas, signed as a free agent after being released by the Storm in May, was drafted by Seattle in the third round (36th overall) of the 2011 WNBA Draft. In separate moves, Seattle waived guard Blake Dietrick and center Markeisha Gatling. Quinn and Thomas made their first appearances of the season for Seattle in the June 28 victory over Atlanta.

BOUCEK BACK FOR YEAR 2

Now in her fifth season as a WNBA head coach and second with the Seattle Storm, Jenny Boucek is tasked with guiding the Storm back to the playoffs for the first time since 2013. The club was 10-24 this past season, finishing four games out of the playoff race. Prior to taking over as head coach in Seattle last year, Boucek held the same role for the now-defunct Sacramento Monarchs from 2007-09. She was an assistant coach in Seattle from 2003-05 and 2010-14 – Boucek was around for both of the team's WNBA titles – before being promoted to head coach. The Storm made improvements in a few different areas after Boucek took over, namely on the defensive end. Seattle's opponents scored just 7.1 fast break points per game last season, good for second in the WNBA. The Storm also allowed just 30.5 points in the paint on average, the fourth best mark in the league.

IT'S RAINING IN SEATTLE

In 2015, 23.8 percent of the shots Seattle took were three-pointers, one of the highest marks in the WNBA. That percentage was even higher during the previous five seasons, when the Storm was always either first or second in the category. This year could be similar, as 10 of the 12 players on Seattle's roster have proven to be threats from three-point range. Through 16 games of the 2016 season, 312 of Seattle's 985 (31.7 percent) of Seattle's shots have been three-pointers. The Storm ranks second in the league with 19.5 attempted per game, and seventh with a 33.0 percent conversion rate.

STEWART SETTLING IN

After making less than 30 percent of her shots in a five-game stretch early in July, Storm rookie Breanna Stewart found her touch in the next four outings. The reigning Rookie of the Month scored 20-plus points in all four games, averaging 29.2 points on 67.9 percent shooting. Against the Sun, she tied yet another franchise rookie record by making five shots from beyond the arc. Against Atlanta, she scored 38 points, tied for the most by a WNBA player this season.

JENNY BOUCEK

On January 20, 2015, Jenny Boucek was announced as the head coach of the Seattle Storm, the fourth head coach in the history of the franchise.

Boucek spent four seasons with the Storm under the leadership of Agler, rejoining the Storm in 2010 as the Director of Player Development and Scouting. She was promoted to associate head coach prior to the start of the 2014 season.

Boucek has been involved in the WNBA since its inaugural season, suiting up for the Cleveland Rockers in 1997. Following a career-ending injury in 1998, she began her WNBA coaching career as an assistant with the Washington Mystics in 1999. She then spent three seasons, 2000-02, in the same capacity with the Miami Sol. Boucek enjoyed her first stint in Seattle on Anne Donovan's staff from 2003-05, a span which included the franchise's first WNBA Championship in 2004. Her first stop as a WNBA head coach came in Sacramento, leading the now-defunct Sacramento Monarchs to a 40-41 clip over two-plus seasons, spanning 2007-09.

Notably respected as one of the top coaches in the league, Boucek has spent much of her career as a student of the game. She served as an advanced scout with the Seattle SuperSonics, and more recently, had full access to Dallas Mavericks Head Coach Rick Carlisle's training camp in September and October of 2014. She was involved in all coaches meetings, film and practice sessions and player meetings.

Boucek also played in Iceland in 1998 and was voted the country's best player after averaging 23 points, seven rebounds and six assists. She returned to Cleveland for the 1998 season but was forced to retire due to a career-ending back injury.

A four-year starter at the University of Virginia (1992-96), Boucek helped lead the Cavaliers to four regular-season ACC Championships and three NCAA Elite Eight appearances. She was a two-time GTE Academic All-America team member and two-time ACC selection. Boucek twice earned team Defensive Player of the Year honors and finished her career at Virginia as a member of the 1,000-point club. She also competed in the U.S. Olympic Festival in 1993.
